

Hood Lift Assist Retrofit

For Cat® 789C, 793C, and 793D Series Trucks

Reduced Opening and Closing Efforts for Engine Hoods

Caterpillar is pleased to announce the introduction of a field installed, hood lift assist retrofit kit for the 789C, 793C, and 793D Series large off-highway trucks. The hood lift assist reduces the effort required to open and close the front and rear engine hoods.

The hood lift assist retrofit kit uses mechanical spring-type struts to significantly reduce hood lifting efforts for the front and rear engine hoods. Lifting forces are reduced to less than 30 lbs (13.6 Kg), which reduces the risk of back strain. The struts also help to resist gravity as the hoods are closed, which reduces the risk of hood damage from slamming shut. Maintenance-free mechanical spring struts provide superior performance and durability to gas struts.
